Course Description: The design elements, organization, page layout, navigation, visual presentation and continuity are some of the topics to be included as subjects in this course. As a beginning course in the Web Design and Development program, this course will also cover Internet vocabulary and concepts as well as file management tasks. Students will use online resources to supplement any online presentations by the instructor, and will complete a website project using template software tools at host websites online.

Goals: The goals of this course are for students:

1. To enhance their knowledge of the features and capabilities of websites through observation and analytical discussions.
2. To develop their proficiency in articulating and summarizing standards and established habits of how websites should be presented.
3. To create a portfolio of projects that demonstrate successful understanding of creating webpages through template based point/click and introductory HTML coding.
4. To understand the expectations of

Outcomes: By the end of the course, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate a varied approach of appraisal to website layout and content as it relates to visual and functional design
2. Integrate multiple research findings to summarize and articulate website features that are considered standards for navigation, consistency, functionality, and form
3. Examine fundamentals of analysis and critical review of website development/design through examination of various sites that meet criteria of elements being reviewed.
4. Create storyboard and layout organization of websites
5. Develop websites utilizing available template hosting domains
6. Demonstrate proficiency with HTML code to design/develop websites consistent with standards studied in first few weeks of semester

College Policies

Plagiarism: Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty are not tolerated at Northwestern Connecticut Community College. Violators of this policy will be subject to sanctions ranging from failure of the assignment (receiving a zero), failing the course, being removed/expelled from the program and/or the College. Please refer to your "Student Handbook" under "Policy on Student Rights," the Section entitled "Student Discipline," or the College catalog for additional information.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA): The College will make reasonable accommodations for persons with documented learning, physical, or psychiatric disabilities. Students may also call the College directly at (860) 738-6464 to hear a recorded message concerning any inclement weather closings. Students are urged to exercise their own judgment if road conditions in their localities are hazardous.

Use of Electronic Devices: Some course content as presented in Blackboard Learn is not fully supported on mobile devices at this time. While mobile devices provide convenient access to check in and read information about your courses, they should not be used to perform work such as taking tests, quizzes, completing assignments, or submitting substantive discussion posts.

Sexual Assault and Intimate Partner Violence Resource Team: NCCC is committed to creating a community that is safe and supportive of people of all gender and sexual identities. This pertains to the entire campus community, whether on ground or virtual, students, faculty, or staff.
Sexual assault and intimate partner violence is an affront to our national conscience, and one we cannot ignore. It is our hope that no one within our campus community will become a victim of these crimes. However, if it occurs, NCCC has created the SART Team - Sexual Assault and Intimate Partner Violence Resource Team - to meet the victim's needs.
SART is a campus and community based team that is fully trained to provide trauma-informed compassionate service and referrals for comprehensive care. The team works in partnership with The Susan B. Anthony Project to extend services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week throughout the year.
The NCCC team members are:
